

How do customers perceive your business versus competitors?

The Challenge:

An Industrial Chemicals Supplier lacked insight on its price positioning compared to competitors. They believed they were more aggressive with pricing than their competitors and were therefore priced too high.

The Solution:

INSIGHT2PROFIT built and executed a competitive intelligence study:

- Conducted in-depth market interviews with 20 distributors and end-users to gather reliable customer perceptions
- Deployed a quantitative survey for 200 end-users
- Implemented competitive web scraping across 6 distributors carrying competitive products

The interviews, survey, and web scraping results revealed:

- Client offerings were perceived as moderately priced vis-à-vis competitors
- Most competitors had increased price 10% in the past 6 months
- Client prices were not consistently above competitors at key distributors

The Results:

Based on the data, we found the Client had room to institute additional price adjustments without risking customers switching to competitors.

→ Read More about Market Intelligence

Web Scraping Results: Price Index, Single Product Group

Findings: Client products not consistently priced above or below competitive products